Support Our Research and Help Promote Pro-Growth Policy

The New Jersey Policy Research Organization (NJPRO) is New Jersey's leading policy, nonpartisan organization conducting innovative, timely and practical research on issues of importance to New Jersey employers. Working with diverse interests, we recognize the importance of economic progress, greater prudence in government expenditures of taxpayer dollars, a more business-friendly policy environment, and a better understanding of business issues in government.

NJPRO are a nonpartisan, tax-exempt organization that depends solely on the support of corporations, individuals and foundations for its income. We develop original studies as well as sponsor research in New Jersey from public and private policy research institutes, universities, colleges and individuals. We do not accept any government funding.

To make a tax-deductible contribution, please fill out the following information and submit your donation to the address below. For additional information about NJPRO or how your organization can get involved, visit our website or email us at info@njprofoundation.org
